DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Suzuki, et al. (US 6,329,643).

Regarding claims 7 and 13, Suzuki discloses “a multi-zone furnace (Fig. 2, ref.#s 47, 48, 49) adapted to bake a plurality of wafers for a first bake time, with each zone of the furnace accommodating at least one wafer (Fig. 2, ref.# W); a metrology tool (Fig. 4, ref.# 8) adapted to measure a film thickness of the at least one wafer baked in each zone of the furnace; and a first controller (Fig. 6, ref.# 52) adapted to determine a deposition rate for each zone of the furnace, the deposition rate being determined (column 6, lines 45-49) as a function of the film thickness of the wafer and the first bake time, to assign the deposition rate of one of said zones (column 1, lines 15-16) as a baseline for the other said zones of the furnace, and to adjust the deposition rate of the other said zones (column 1, lines 13-14) of the furnace to be substantially the same as said baseline deposition rate; and wherein the furnace is further adapted to bake the subsequent set of wafers in the furnace with said adjusted deposition rates.”

Art Unit: 2851

Regarding claims 8, 9, 14 and 15, Suzuki discloses "at least one second controller (Fig. 3, ref.#s. 51, 52, 53), the at least one second controller being adapted to adjust the temperature setting of each zone of the furnace; and wherein the first controller is further adapted to determine a temperature setting to set the other said zones of the furnace to achieve said baseline deposition rate, and change the temperature setting of the other said zones to the temperature setting determined (column 1, lines 42-47)."

Regarding claims 10 and 16, Suzuki discloses "wherein the metrology tool further comprises an ellipsometer." (column 6, line 21)

Regarding claims 11, 12, 17 and 18, Suzuki discloses "wherein the first controller is further adapted to determine a second bake time to bake said subsequent set of wafers in the furnace based at least upon said baseline deposition rate." (column 1, 42-47; column 6, lines 45-49)

The method steps of claims 1-6 are met by the operation of Suzuki as applied to claims 7-18.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Cook, et al. (US 2003/0049372) and Moslehi (US 5,436,172) each disclose multi-zone furnace with a temperature and process uniformity control system.
